

Call for all Medical Family Advocates!

Our moment is now! Make this time count toward the future of medicine and your family's place in the family of medicine while taking advantage of the opportunities that AMA Alliance membership provides to you. Join your friends and colleagues in the AMA Alliance and...

use the Alliance as your personalized conduit to:

- Career center that helps you assess your resume, consider how to advance, find a new job or post one available. Look for this new feature on our Web site at www.amaalliance.org in June.
 - News and information affecting the practice of medicine today. Stay connected and up to date so that when opportunities arise for the physician in your family, you are ready to take advantage of them. You'll receive AMA Alliance Connections magazine each quarter and E-Connection each month.
 - Physician Wellness knowledge, resource kits and tracking tools to measure progress. Physicians place themselves last when it comes to their personal health maintenance. We'll help you move your physician spouse to the front of the line, with facts and handouts that he or she can also use to educate patients.
 - Work/Life Balance information, tips and resources that you can use today and share with friends and colleagues experiencing trouble.
 - Ideas, advice, a chance to talk through our AMA Alliance blog and the Young Member Connection blog.
 - Research as you request, that gives you, for example, the details of obtaining a grant for installing health information technology in a medical practice. We'll find the answers and options for you.
 - Affordable children's activity books (coloring books) that you can use to introduce healthy lifestyles and bullying prevention to your child's classroom.
 - Lasting friendships with other medical families across the country.
 - A nationwide voice in support of the medical community's health advocacy efforts from the convenience of your home or office. Your support counts!
- Securing your family against sudden loss. Select from a variety of insurance options. And so much more....

Physicians and their families are standing at a crossroad in this country, as you must know, between the health system we have and the tough reforms we know are required...between the increasing demands on physicians in practice and the struggle to find and maintain work/life balance in a medical marriage.

It's up to us as physician spouses, members of this wonderful nationwide network, to combine our voices and talents, locally and nationally in support of medicine.

As President of the AMA Alliance, I am inviting you to say "yes" to the opportunities that the AMA Alliance offers you and your family in medicine. A short-form application with a discount for dual membership is attached for your convenience!
