

FEDERATION OF STATE MEDICAL BOARDS

Telemedicine Policies Board-by-Board Overview

Document summary:

Licensure

- All state boards, plus the medical boards of the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, require that physicians engaging in telemedicine are licensed in the state in which the patient is located, or are registered in the state, if they have a registry for interstate practice.
- Ten (10) states, plus the Virgin Islands, issue a special purpose license, telemedicine license, or permit to practice telemedicine across state lines.
- Ten (10) states require physicians to register or receive a waiver if they wish to practice across state lines.
- Three (3) states, plus the District of Columbia, offer regional or proximal reciprocity for interstate practice.
- One (1) state allows pro bono interstate practice.
- Thirty-nine (39) states, plus the District of Columbia and the Virgin Islands, have licensure exceptions and/or consultation exceptions for services rendered across state lines.

Reimbursement – Medicaid

- All states and the District of Columbia provide reimbursement for some form of live video in Medicaid fee-for-service.
- Thirty-three (33) states reimburse for store-and-forward.
- Thirty-seven (37) states reimburse for remote patient monitoring.
- Forty-three (43) states and the District of Columbia reimburse for audio-only.
- Twenty-five (25) states reimburse for all four, with certain limitations.

Reimbursement – Private Payer

- Forty-three (43) states, the District of Columbia, and the Virgin Islands govern private payer telehealth reimbursement policies.
- Forty (40) states, plus the District of Columbia and the Virgin Islands, have private payer parity laws.
